10 of the best Lake Garda villas for a dreamy Italian escape

These are the loveliest villas on the shores of Lake Garda, as chosen by our editors

By Layla Quaedvlieg

20 August 2025

As Italy's largest lake, it's no surprise that Lake Garda is teeming with beautiful villas, too. Hop on a train from Milan or Verona and within an hour reach the spectacularly clear waters, enclosed by a mixture of craggy mountains and charming lakeside villages. Lake Como, Garda's glitzier sister, usually steals the spotlight for being a celebrity magnet, and while Lake Garda is by no means a secret Italian lake, it offers equal beauty with much less of the crowds.

Explore this olive grove hotspot, underrated foodie wonderland, and treasure trove of glorious villa rentals for your next Italian escape. Ranging from regal estates suspended in the past to swish pool houses with secret saunas, there's a villa in Lake Garda to suit all tastes. To help you in your search, we've scoured the idyllic perimeter and selected some of the loveliest villas in Lake Garda, chosen for their handy amenities, prime location, and of course, postcard-perfect lake views.

Family-friendly former monastery, Calvagese

Cobblestone walls rising above a stunning 25-metre swimming pool. Romantic candlelit suppers within a grand vaulted cellar. A private mini golf course on the edge of a lush garden. This stay is far from your everyday villa, but for milestone celebrations or long-awaited reunions, it's the perfect treat. Bygone centuries are beautifully preserved in its monastery-turned-villa architecture, a highlight being the gym cellar, where you'll find cardio and weights machines in an atmospheric medieval setting. Cooking enthusiasts are spoilt for choice by the three fully-equipped kitchens, stocking everything from a wine fridge to an ice cream maker, and each bedroom has a glossy walk-in rainshower. Lake Garda's picturesque shores are a short drive away, but with a ping pong table, mini golf course, and home cinema within your home, there's plenty to keep all entertained on the property.
